$6500.00

A work about finding your path and knowing you're on the right track. This oil on canvas painting is a part of a capsule collection of works that explore the heavens and their relation to the human condition. Roberts notes that from pleasure to pain, it is the sentiment of the feelings themselves that are most important.

Acrylic and Oil on Canvas
$9,000.00

The first work finished for the new chapter of work within the PERPETUUS series for 2022. Reticence is a work about restraint. The world and humanity have been spinning from one shocking phase to the next over the past several years--sometimes so shocking it seems that stunned silence is the only immediate action.

Acrylic and Oil on Canvas

$6,500.00

The painting is the first completed in a new body of work exploring the new consciousness of 2021. There are so many different feelings of a new beginning that feels as if the dawn brings so many opportunities and yet at the same time there is a pervasive feeling of doubt, fear, and distrust of what the future brings, and what waits in the shadows.

This Place is The Oldest Friend of Mine

60 x 48"

Acrylic and Oil on Canvas

2021

$6,500.00

A depiction of one of the first views that Roberts became familiar with in upstate New York. A perpetually green pond sits in a meadow with a large open sky. The work continues to excavate humanity's question of connection to mother nature. The viewer can look through a window into a possible mythic and forgotten past of bio-interconnectedness.

$6,500.00

The depiction of a wetland with the sun rising in the background. Three red winged black birds are perched over shadowy cattails and a spattering of dragonflies. Upstate New York is home to several wetlands, bogs and marshes which all seem so empty at first glance, but upon closer inspection life finds a way! These ecosystems are home to a great variety of life that is often overlooked.

This personal work is part of an anecdote that involves a fall planting of 200 tulips. Through the winter the tulips gained strength and by spring began to sprout and bloom. A hungry fawn stumbled by one day and ate all but 38 of them. The work resonates with the virtue of patience, something lost is something gained, and serendipity hidden by rage and despair.

TERMINAL BREAKS

Delineate/Suffocate

46 x 64"

Acrylic and Oil on Canvas

2020

$6500.00

A work that is about power by collaboration, redemption through adaptation, and cycles that need one another to coexist. Providing a glimpse of both above and below the water line in a pond, a dawning sky gives way to fish, frogs and plants below. The last piece completed in the second wave of the 2020 pandemic, the work addresses both a segregation in our society but yet the need to collaborate to be successful.

THE SPECTRE AT THE BANQUET

Always Here and Never There

40 x 35"

Acrylic and Oil on Canvas

2020

$2850.00

Conceived and finished 1 month before the lock down in New York, the work now seems to foreshadow an epic event I could not predict. The vessel acts as a metaphor for both providing structure but distorting it. The graphic floral display is fantastical and flamboyant, and the composition as a whole asks a question about societies blurred understanding of reality vs virtuality.
